New York, April 18 .- A special to the Pribune from Washington says: "The United States charge d'affaires at Constantinopie will be directed to inform the sultan that this government must insis on the payment without further delay of he $100,000 indemnity for outrages on American missionaries and destruction of their property, unless prompt action on the sultan's part anticipates the uiti matum and the debt is discharged before nates for the congressional convention, and that the names of all delegates and alternates be certified to the chairman of this committee at Kingman, Kansas, immediately thereafter. By order of the Seventh District Congressional CommitSeventh District Congressional Commitsultan to be due to the American missionaries. Consideration has been given to a proposition to seize the port of Smyrna and administer its customs reveones until the judgment and the expenses of collection are cancelled. This ourse has not been wholly abandoned n the remote contingency that satisfaction is indefinitely delayed. It involves serious compileations in the Mediterranean, for which the United States is extremely reluctant to assume esponsibility, for the recovery of so mall an amount at the present time. It might precipitate war, though Turkey's ending some of its antiquated warships to Smyrna to resist the temporary American occupation. In that event, the ecessity for sending a large fleet to the Mediterranean would create alarm among he powers and disturb the delicate equibrium now existing in Europe. Under he circumstances it has been determined hat diplomatic resources will be first exhausted, with confidence that the sultan will be brought to understand that his promises cannot be lightly briken. The proved claims against Turkey included about $300,000 for the destruction of property alone. To these, which admitted of practically no dispute, there was added by the Lentz claim $40,00. which was presented by Secretary

UNCLE SAM NOT BULLYING Case Where He May Have to Grin and Bear, Like Other Folks.

Washington, D. C. April 18.-The new f the firm attitude assumed by the state partment toward the Turkish governent on the prosecution of its claim for lamages to American missionary property caused something of a sensation in liplomatic circles today. Three successive American ministers have prosecuted these claims; each has received a promise of prompt settlement, and yet not a ollar has been paid. With European dia mats that is an old experience and they have consequently been somewhat urprised at the announcement that the nited States government is actually going to insist on performance instead of romise, Minister Angell, after trying his hand at collection for two years, recmmended that a United States warship be sent to Smyrna and collect revenues at the custom house there sufficient to meet our claims. This suggestion was not seriously entertained, nor is in now. In the first place, according to the state department officials, most o fibe imporant business interests in Smyraa are fr the hands of foreigners, not Turks, and a bombardment by a United States fleet might result in a pretty bill for damages against us. Then, as there is still a rem mant of a Turkish navy, the United States would have to senad a squadrer instead of a single warship. Such : movement would without doubt, be rewould not contempate with eq an action by the United States that would perhaps destroy the fruits of many years work of the greates European statesfurkey. Therefore the next step to be iken by our government will not be ignified manner the indignation felt b e United States at the betrayal of Turkish promises. TALK OF SHUTTING DOWN

On Common Folks' Familiarity With Diplomats.

Washington, D. C., April 18.-It is learned that no instructions were sent from Washington to Mr. Storer, the United States minister ad Madrid, rela-Spanish minister here, of the invitation er acted according to his own judgment and upon his own responsibility in any representation he may have made to the Spanish foreign office on this subject. It is not to be inferred from this stateme that his action, even as reported, is disapproved here. On the contrary, it is declared that his course was in thorough accord with the proprieties of official etiquette, and that he showed excellent judgment in anticipating a complaint which would have been disagreeable to meet. His course is closely akin to that pursued by Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador here, in stating to Secretary Hay, in advance of any information as to the alleged opening of Mr. Macrum's mail, that if such an act had been committed, it was a source of regret and was unauthorized, The officials are careful to make it clear that Mr. Storer did not make an apology in the name of his governm and they are confident that the Madrid dispatch conveys an erroneous impression on that point. Inasmuch as the offense, if there has been any offense, was perpetrated by a municipality, for whose actions the United States is in no awake at night and made me unfit to at-not be proper for the United States government to make an apology. The Spanish minister is satisfied with the explanation of the affair that has says that he will not make the incident the subject of any representations to the state department; so that is the end has had the effect to emphasize in the minds of the officials here, the propriety of remitting to the state department any exchanges vetween the diplomatic body here and the promoters of enterprises and national, state, or municipal. It has only recently come to be the custom for the about to take place in Chicago, to address themselves directly to foreign representatives in Washington. With the best of intentions on the part of the projectors, much mischief may result from this laxity. In the present case, for instance, It may readly be perceeived that the acbody in Washington of an invitation to glorify the crushing defeat of the Spannavy might constitute a gross violation of the spirit of neutrality which is supposed to animate governments, and government the unwary diplomatist who
